1. At 2300 on 11 January, 1955, it was possible to see that no vessels were perthed alongside the former destroyer pier in Swinemuende. Only a few the Soviets lamps were lighted at the quay, and had withdrawn all vesæls from the Swine River because of drifting ice. no ships could be berthed nor could they lie at the bunkering quay, upstream from the Ostwine River.

2. At 1200 on 15 January 1955 there was a great deal of drifting ice in Swinemuende. A total of seven T 301, of Kronstadt-class, vessels were seen berthed in the former naval coal basin at the rear of the Eichstaden wharf on the west bank of the Swine River. the types of the vessels could not be made out as only their sterns were visible. The Osternothafen basin was pakked with small-sized naval vessels.
